

A program execution is memory safe if the following things do not occur:

- access errors
 - buffer overflow/over-read
 - invalid pointer
 - race condition
 - use after free
- uninitialized variables
 - null pointer access
 - uninitialized pointer access
- memory leaks
 - stack/heap overflow
 - invalid free
 - unwanted aliasing